Dear Debby, today you sent us a questionnaire about the quality of your school and the lessons. I decided not to answer it but to write a comment on the FB page of the Yang school. I started with the beginners class in January and although I'm not really a very language talented person, I believe that I learned a lot during the last few months about the Chinese language and the culture. After a hardworking day in the office, I'm usually a bit tired and exhausted but you always find the right way to wake us up and grasp our attention. The warm welcome at the door, ni hao ma, you asking if we would like to have a cup of tea, it's just great and very kind. The classroom has a very personal touch and gives me the feeling like being at home surrounded by good friends, laughing together very much and having just a great time deep diving into the Chinese language. The classes are very diversified and you got the right mix in learning us to speak, listen, read and write and what astonishes me most, we do this every time a bit different... After 1.5 hours I'm usually done :-)) and there is no space left in my brain to store any further information, but I feel happy exhausted and I'm fully motivated to open up my books at home and to do a recap of what we have learned. To make it short and simple: The Yang school and the teachers are fantastic! I can feel that you put your heart into teaching and your passion is fully passed on to me as student. I'm looking forward to many more interesting and challenging lessons :-)) Thank you very much.
